NEW YORK— New Horizon Investment Club a Honduran-American organization has today announced that its president José Francisco Avila has been invited to participate in the Bellagio Dialogue on Migration in Bellagio, Italy on July 3 - 8.

With support from the Rockefeller Foundation, the German Marshall Fund (GMF) has launched the Bellagio Dialogue on Migration as a forum to bring together policymakers, scholars, and community-based practitioners to discuss some of the most pressing challenges migration presents today and to propose innovative solutions. The month-long Dialogue will encompass economic, social, and security issues facing migrants, their host countries, and their countries of origin.

Mr. Avila will participate during the week on Economic Dimensions of Migration. During this week two workshops will convene, one on Migration and Developing Countries and another on Migration, Labor and Trade: Economic Impacts for Receiving Countries. Mr. Avila has been invited to participate in the workshop on migration and development taking place July 3rd - 8th, and will be a speaker as part of a panel addressing the issue of "The Potential for Development through Migrant Remittances."

"It is quiet an honor to be invited to participate as a speaker by such a prestigious organization to share our innovative approach to the productive use of remittances with as part of the Transnational Process and Capital Flow", said Mr. Avila.

The German Marshall Fund of the United States (GMF) - www.gmfus.org

The German Marshall Fund of the United States (GMF) is a nonpartisan American public policy and grantmaking institution dedicated to promoting greater cooperation and understanding between the United States and Europe.

GMF does this by supporting individuals and institutions working on transatlantic issues, by convening leaders to discuss the most pressing transatlantic themes, and by examining ways in which transatlantic cooperation can address a variety of global policy challenges. In addition, GMF supports a number of initiatives to strengthen democracies.
